

Where do you go next after you have completed the Yorkshire 3 Peaks? Well, it must be to complete the National 3 Peaks within 24 hours, of course!

Ben Nevis – 1,343m

Scafell Pike – 978m

Snowdon – 1,085m

Total ascent – 2,957m

Target – 24 hours!

Raymond James Spinningfields will be taking on the challenge of the national 3 peaks on Tuesday 25th July, for a great cause, Inspire.

Inspire was created so that young people could get involved in activities they've never even dreamt of, make new friends, and be introduced to a world of opportunity. They provide an inspirational environment for more than 5,000 local young people and for some, a critical lifeline.

This year Inspire celebrates a milestone birthday that marks five years of inspiring and empowering young people in Chorley to fulfil their potential.

By giving young people the freedom to discover themselves in an innovative, safe and social environment and being there to support their transition into adulthood for five years, Inspire has created long-lasting change for over 10,000 young people.

This is a legacy Inspire is enormously proud of and there is a lot to reflect on and celebrate, but their work does not stop here. To continue their unwavering efforts to support as many young people as possible, as a charity they need to raise £1,400,000 each year just to stay open.

Young people can achieve their potential if we invest in and support them. They are the future, and we need to hear and develop their voices – the benefits are significant when we do. Please help us to continue the great work Inspire does by supporting this event and donating what you can.
